Establishing financial assistance for your uninsured and underinsured patient population can be complex. The process of managing numerous applications at once can put undue stress on a healthcare provider's staff. Emdeon Application & Imaging Manager helps streamline the financial services application process and provides efficient tools to ensure applications are accurate from the beginning.

Work smarter, not harder

Emdeon knows that time spent by healthcare providers is valuable. That's why Emdeon Application & Imaging Manager comes packed with features that work in concert to simplify financial assistance and the Medicaid application and eligibility processes. Such features include:

- On-screen prompts to automate and ease data entry
- Built-in error checking to prevent invalid entries
- Reports to quickly and efficiently monitor the application process
- Tracking of applications from beginning to end
- Tools to coordinate staff resources
- Letter series for complete patient communication

As a result, Emdeon Application & Imaging Manager enables you to submit more complete and accurate applications and achieve a positive impact to the bottom line.

Eliminate the paper

Our document management feature lets providers archive applications and supporting documentation electronically. This feature provides fast and efficient access to applications and their supporting documentation, reducing and sometimes eliminating the need to house, store and manage paper files. Having these files easily accessible also alleviates the labor-intensive document retrieval process associated with audits.

Emdeon Application & Imaging Manager also allows providers to submit applications electronically to participating state and municipal Medicaid bureaus. This creates a virtually paper-free application process from initial patient contact all the way through approval.

Get more done – faster

Emdeon Application & Imaging Manager works to quickly and accurately complete the application process seamlessly from beginning to end. Tracking, error checking, organization and patient communication features help avoid missteps prior to submissions, resulting in more applications approved the first time. Electronic submission and approval accelerate the round-trip application process so that healthcare providers can spend more quality time on what's most important – their patients.

Reduce the stress

Applying for financial assistance can be a burdensome and complicated process. Many providers are underpaid for care given to patients eligible for financial assistance. Accurate and timely enrollment is vital to ensure the most compensation possible. Unfortunately, patients often lack the necessary expertise to apply within the required time limit, and many providers do not have the resources for effective application management. They must rely on handwritten worksheets, notes and reminders to get patients through the application process.

Emdeon Application & Imaging Manager helps providers take control of the entire application process for their patients. This alleviates patient stress and can greatly accelerate the financial services eligibility cycle.
