

Simplifying the Business of Healthcare

Secure, high-volume data capture helps improve form processing efficiencies and reduce expenses

Overall accuracy is increased through reductions in manual keying and mailroom sorting

Accelerated pre-adjudication processing decreases time from receipt to payment

Emdeon Transform

Proven document management solutions from Emdeon help payer organizations meet growing demands to process greater claim volumes and reduce expenses while maintaining a superior service.

Emdeon Transform streamlines form processing by automating the conversion of paper claims and other documents to electronic data. A sophisticated software application, Emdeon Transform captures scanned information and delivers electronic data to payer systems. Intuitive capabilities within Transform automate document classification, reducing the need for manual handling and form sorting in payer mailrooms. Because Transform feeds the scanned claim information directly to payer systems, data entry is also dramatically reduced.

Automated processes mean lower expenses as well as improved overall accuracy and efficiency. By reducing manual sorting and keying, Emdeon Transform helps decrease the potential for human error early in the claim cycle. Adjudication efficiencies are enhanced because Transform's technology-leading software capabilities allow processing of dropout and non-dropout forms, improved OCR optimization and maximized, automated work selection and workflow routing.

Manage healthcare data securely and simply

Emdeon Transform offers user interface tools that help payers manage workflows and meet industry requirements. Real-time reporting capabilities assist in production planning, site performance evaluation and quality management. Transform's built-in security features help payers comply with regulations to ensure the integrity of protected health information, control access to healthcare data and secure information continuity.
