Emdeon Direct™

Verify patient information from any networked PC

Emdeon Direct™ delivers powerful capability to verify patient information directly from any workstation within your established network. Workstation inquiries can be conducted quickly and easily for virtually all payers, including Medicare, Medicaid and most commercial health plans. Emdeon Direct provides you the ability to perform:

- Insurance eligibility inquiries
- Referrals
- Authorizations/precertifications
- Address verifications
- Payment prediction
- Claim status inquiries

An ideal solution for large, networked providers

Emdeon Direct is ideally suited for hospitals, multi-physician practices, community/public health facilities, medical groups, billing services, behavioral health networks and other large provider groups with existing client networks. It efficiently connects various job functions such as registration and scheduling across your network.

Smart Search™ finds information quickly and easily

Powerful Smart Search™ technology systematically exhausts all available search criteria, often eliminating the need for repeated searches. For instance, if a patient is not identified in a payer's database using a member number because the number is invalid or unavailable, the system will automatically continue the search using any additional data available that is accepted by that payer (such as name and date of birth), in an attempt to find a match. Requests may be made for individual patients, as needed, or in batched groups for increased efficiency. Search results can be viewed, shared, printed or saved for later use on a local shared network server.
